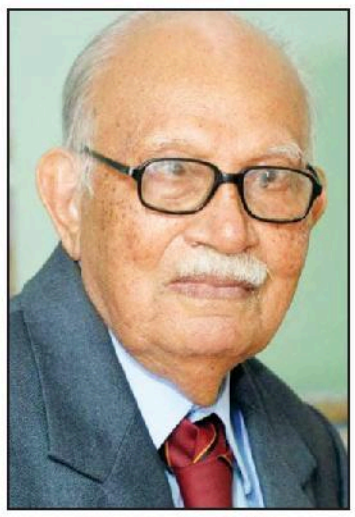
Prof. B. Sheik Ali no more



Prof. B. Sheik Ali

Mysuru, Sept. 1- Prof. B. Sheik Ali (98), former Vice-Chancellor of Goa and Mangalore Universities, passed away at a private hospital in city this morning following brief illness.

A resident of 3rd Cross, 7th Main in Saraswathipuram, he had also served as the Secretary of Muslim Hostel.

He is survived by one son, one daughter and a host of relatives and friends.

His body will be taken to Muslim Hostel in Saraswathipuram for Deedar. Namaz-e-Janaza after Magrib Salath at Muslim Hostel Mosque inside the complex at 6.30 pm followed by burial at Main Khabrasthan, behind Mysore Jail near Tipu Circle.

Condoled: MLA Tanveer Sait, all Milli Brothers, Central Muslim Association of Karnataka, All India Milli Council Managing Committee, Tahafuz-e-khabrasthan, Mysuru, have condoled the Professor's death.

Condoling Prof. Sheik Ali's passing away, the Founder-Editor of Star of Mysore and Mysuru Mithra K.B. Ganapathy said that Prof. Sheik Ali was a scholar par-excellence, prolific writer and known for his oratory. A distinguished scholar who has written more than fifty books, his latest book was a translation into english of the book 'Apostle of Mercy' by Maulana Abul Kalam Azad published in 2022.

I had good rapport with him as a journalist when he was a Professor in Manasagangothri. A very gentle, humble man for his scholarship, soft-spoken with a gentle smile always.

While presenting me a copy of the translated book 'Apostle of Mercy' he had written a note that indeed made me fulfilled as a journalist. This was what he wrote: "With best wishes to esteemed KBG, passionate lover of books, whose Evening Daily stands for the highest values, setting an example to the whole community what media ought to be."

It was dated 11.5.2022. Now sadly he is not with us. I know a vacuum is created in the academic world and in the area of community service in his passing away. May God give his dear and near ones strength to bear this loss. May his soul rest in peace.

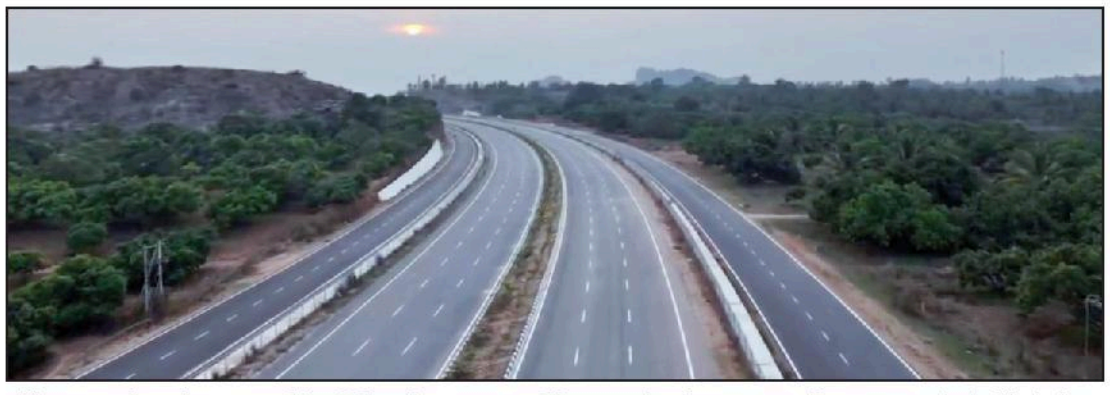
Status of Mysuru-Bengaluru Highway

Survey on to initiate design changes to prevent flooding

23-km Ramanagara-Channapatna bypass second carriageway opens for traffic



The second carriageway of the 23-km Ramanagara-Channapatna bypass was thrown open to traffic today.

Mysuru, Sept. 1 (KMS, RK & BCT)- Amidst intense criticism and scrutiny by the public and political party leaders, the contractors of the 10-lane Mysuru-Bengaluru Expressway have assured the State Government that they will look into aspects including redesigning parts of the Highway that were submerged due to the recent incessant downpour in Ramanagara.

The much vaunted access-controlled economic corridor was in the news of late after many stretches including underpasses were flooded, marooning vehicles where more than 5-ft water was on the road. The second carriageway of 23-km Ramanagara-Channapatna bypass was thrown open to traffic today. By Sept. 25, the stretch up to Nidaghatta will be opened, including flyovers.

As per the feedback to the Government given by the contractors and project engineers of the National Highways Authority of India (NHAI) that is executing the project, they had not factored in the rainfall and flooding areas as it had not rained this heavy in the last 30 years. In addition, many lakes were filled up through lift irrigation — a Government project — even before the monsoon began. As it rained heavily, water overflowed at places, especially Basavanapura.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

Ganesh is the elephant-headed God of Hindu mythology. He is the youngest son of Shiv and Parvati. His large head symbolises wisdom. Once when he and his brother were given a challenge to go around the world thrice and the one who finishes first would be rewarded with the fruit of wisdom, Ganesh at once circumambulated his parents thrice as they are the cause of this universe and received the reward. This story not only shows his wisdom but it also teaches us the value of respecting our parents and elders, the source. Celebration of his birthday is celebrating the wealth of wisdom, an essential factor for prosperity and peace.

Vigneshwar is another name for Ganesh, meaning the Lord of obstacles. Ganesh is invoked at the start of a project to ward off any obstacle on the way. To achieve success, two factors are important. One is the individual effort and the other is God's grace, which is universal and not preferential. Open minded individual striving with right attitude receives the grace. Just as rain water falling on the mountain top and valley gets collected only in the valley, so too people with humility accepting their limitations and surrendering to God receive that grace enabling them to ward off the difficulties faced in any pursuit.

Here, surrender doesn't mean surrendering our thinking and efforts but it is surrendering the egocentric desires and egoistic attitude. Right attitude coupled with right effort aligned with the total culminates in siddhi, success.

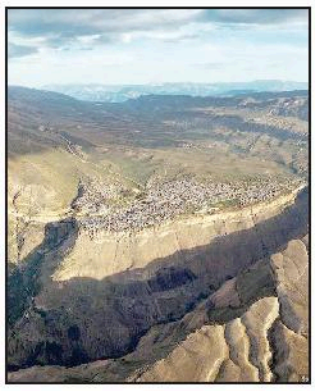
Tiny artworks on plastic bottle caps

Osaka: Artist Mito Nishikura painstakingly recycles plastic bottle caps into tiny artworks by painstakingly painting detailed landscapes on them.

Osaka-based Mito Nishikura has a different way of using them for artistic purposes. At first glance, plastic bottle caps don't really make the best pointing canvases – at least not individually – because of their very limited surface, but the talented Japanese illustrator has found a way to create detailed works of art on these tiny bits of plastic.

Nishikura, a graduate of the Kyoto Saga University of Art, only started painting on plastic bottle caps in June of this year, but her artworks have already attracted the attention of tiny art enthusiasts on social media. And for good reason, they are quite something to behold.

Village perched on the edge of deep canyon



Dagestan: The ancient village of Khunzakh, in Dagestan, is literally perched on the edge of a deep canyon, making it one of the most awe-inspiring human settlements in the world.

Khunzakh, a very old village with a very unique location – right on the edge of a 100-meter-deep canyon is one of the wonders. Located about 140 km from Makhachkala, the capital city of Dagestan, at an altitude of 2,000 meters above sea level, Khunzakh truly is a sight to behold.

Khunzakh's stunning beauty was recently highlighted in the stunning drone photography of Slava Stepanov, a talented photographer who beautifully captured the jaw-dropping location of this Dagestani village in a series of pics that recently went viral on Russian social media.

VOICE OF THE READER

Grand Dasara illumination of potholes!

Sir,

A couple of articles that appeared in Star of Mysore a few days apart vividly describe what is happening in Namma Mysuru these days.

On Friday, Aug. 19, the headline was '110-km of visual treat', and the article talked about the grand illumination for the occasion of Dasara celebrations this year.

However, an article on Thursday, Aug. 25, shone the spotlight on the potholes that fill our pathetic roads. It captured the woes and angst of Mysureans perfectly and I'm very happy that you chose to hit on this problem.

Lately, the roads across Mysuru have been deteriorating very rapidly. The Bannur Road, the Urs Road and Vinaya Marga especially are horrible. The roads that were laid just a couple of years ago have completely disappeared, and even the so-called newly laid roads have become patchy. In some places the patches have been made in such a haphazard manner that the roads are completely uneven.

Now with the plans for the grand Dasara illumination, it appears that our authorities want us to look up, not down!

Mysureans, this is a warning to us all: please use the extra lighting to look down and see all the potholes before you stumble into them!

Eight-day Savarkar Rath Yatra concludes

Mysuru, Sept.1 (PM&DM)- The eight-day Veer Savarkar Rath Yatra, organised by Veer Savarkar Pratishtana, Mysuru, which was launched from Mysuru on Aug.23, concluded on Aug.30.

Addressing the valedictory of the Yatra at Vidyashankar Kalyana Mantapa here on Tuesday, Pratishtana President Yashaswini said that the Yatra covered a total distance of 2,000 kms, travelling across the districts of Mysuru, Mandya and Chamarajanagar.

Pointing out that former Chief Minister B.S. Yediyurappa had launched the Rath Yatra from Kote Anjaneyaswamy temple in front of the Palace North Gate on Aug.23, Yashaswini said that the valedictory was held at Vidyashankar Kalyana Mantapa near Gun House Circle in city on Aug.30.

Maintaining that the Yatra has been successful in reaching out to 10 lakh people in three districts, she said that pamphlets on Veer Savarkar were widely circulated among the people. Noting that this apart, about 2,000 books on Veer Savarkar was sold during the Yatra, she said that more such programmes will be held in the future too in order to spread awareness on the struggles and achievements of Veer Savarkar, who had fought for the country's independence.

Social activist from Tumakuru H.N. Chandrashekar, who also spoke, said that Savarkar was the first person who was sentenced to life imprisonment twice by the British.

Pointing out that the Rath Yatra was taken out as a reaction to those who criticised Savarkar, he argued that Savarkar's thoughts was a huge inspiration for patriotism and nationalism.

Contending that Savarkar sharpened the Indian mindset on patriotism, he said that Savarkar's plans and ideas for the independence struggle was even acknowledged by other great freedom fighters such as Mahatma Gandhi, Dr. B.R. Ambedkar and Netaji Subash-chandra Bose.

Lashing out at the Congress for criticising Savarkar, Chandrashekar said that the Congress itself was established by a foreigner. Noting that Savarkar continued to oppose the Congress for very valid reasons, he said that the Congress' criticism of Savarkar was totally unjustified and pointless. Claiming that the Congress continued to ignore Savarkar as he opposed the party, he said that the Congress was limited to a family and this tradition still continues.

Yatra co-ordinator Rajath said that the Yatra was a huge excess, with public participation much more than expected. Pointing out that 200 bikes too were part of the Yatra, he said that the Pratishtana is satisfied with the success of Veer Savarkar Rath Yatra in the three districts.

City BJP President T.S. Srivatsa, former MUDA Chairman H.V. Rajeev, Corporators M.V. Ramprasad and Shivakumar, Pratishtana office-bearers Rakesh Bhat, K.M. Nishant and Sandesh were present.

Special puja to Dasara jumbos marks Ganesha Chaturthi at Palace

Mysuru, Sept. 1 (MTY&KS)- On the occasion of Ganesha Chaturthi, special puja was performed to all nine Dasara elephants in Mysore Palace premises yesterday by the Forest Department.

Paada puja was performed to the Dasara jumbos and kumkum and turmeric were sprinkled on their feet. They were then led near Kodi Someshwara Temple in the Palace premises, where Priest S.V. Prahlad Rao performed the puja between 12 noon and 12.30 pm.

As part of the rituals, Naivedyas offered to Lord Ganesha such as chakkuli, kodbale, nippittu, modaka, kadabu, jaggery, sugarcane etc., were offered to the Dasara elephants

Deputy Conservator of Forests (DCF) Dr. V. Karikalan, speaking on the occasion, said that all nine elephants, which arrived in the first batch and undergoing training, are healthy.

"The third phase of training for the elephants has commenced. Howdah elephant Abhimanyu has carried a total weight of 1,150 kg, which include 750 kg sand bags and Gaadhi Namdha. He carried the weight from the Palace to the Torchlight Parade Grounds with ease. All the nine elephants are co-ordinating well during the training and the second batch of five elephants will arrive at Mysore Palace on Sept. 7," DCF Dr. Karikalan said.

Once the five elephants arrive, all 14 elephants will undergo weight checking on Sept. 8 and from Sept. 9, all 14 Dasara elephants will take part in the training, the DCF added.

Illuminate Raja Marga five days ahead of Navarathri

Advance illumination will acclimatise Dasara elephants to the dazzling lights, surging crowds

Mysuru, Sept.1 (MTY&BCT)- The Forest Department has requested the Mysuru District Administration to initiate the illumination of Raja Marga (Vijayadashami procession route) five days prior to the Dasara celebrations.

Navarathri begins on Sept. 26 and as per the Forest Department's request, the illumination has to begin on Sept. 21. This is to acclimatise the Dasara elephants with the illumination set up so that they do not panic on the Vijayadashami Day, seeing bright lights.

During the Dasara 2020 and 2021, the celebrations were limited to the Mysore Palace and as such, there was no need for rehearsals on the Raja Marga. As a result, the elephant team stayed away from the procession route from the Palace to the Bannimantap Grounds.

A letter has been sent by the Deputy Conservator of Forests (Wildlife) Dr. V. Karikalan to the Dasara Special Officer (Deputy Commissioner) Dr. Bagadi Gautham urging him to initiate steps to begin the illumination five days ahead of the Navarathri celebrations. This is a pre-emptive step so that the elephants stay cool even if they see the bright lights and surging crowds.

The 2022 Dasara will be a grand Dasara with lakhs of tourists arriving. "It has been three years since the elephants have walked amidst crowds and under bright lights. As such, there is a need for rehearsals at least five to six times under the lights. As such, the Raja Marga has to be illuminated in advance so that the elephant team gets used to the surroundings," the letter stated.

This year, apart from veterans, there are many first-time Dasara participants and effective training must be provided to them so that they will not panic. If the Raja Marga is illuminated in advance, the elephants can be taken out on acclimatising drills, the letter added.

Wooden Ambari

Already many rounds of sandbag carrying training have been given to the Howdah-carrying Abhimanyu and along with him, other elephants like Gopalaswamy, Dhananjaya, Mahendra and Bheema have also been trained.

As part of the training, sandbags weighing 750 kg (same weight as Golden Howdah) will be mounted on the elephants. The Department is planning to start wooden Ambari carrying training from Sept. 5.

The second batch of elephants is set to arrive at the Mysore Palace on Sept. 7 and in that, Kunthi (36) from Rampura Camp — replacement for Vikrama (59) which is in musth — Gopi (41), Srirama (40) and Vijaya (63) are expected to come from Dubare Elephant camp in Kodagu and Parthasarathi (18) will be brought from Rampura Elephant Camp near Bandipur. These elephants are brought to the Palace late as they do not have any major role to play in the celebrations, unlike their counterparts who have come in the first batch.

Vikrama in musth, misses Dasara for second time in a row

Mysuru, Sept. 1 (MTY&KS)- Vikrama, the 59-year-old elephant, housed in Dubare Elephant Camp, will miss this year's Dasara once again as he is in musth. Kunthi, the 36-year-old female elephant, housed in Rampura Elephant Camp is replacing Vikrama for this year's Dasara. She is participating in Dasara for the first time.

Last year too Vikrama had missed Dasara as he was in musth on his arrival to Mysuru, but this year, he is in musth in his camp itself. Though the musth reduces in two to three months in other elephants, it is prolonging for Vikrama.

DCF Dr. V. Karikalan said that Vikrama was among the 14 elephants that were selected for Dasara and he was to arrive in the second batch. "But as his musth has not reduced, he has been opted out from the second batch of five elephants and new elephant Kunthi will be replacing him. There are three new elephants which will be participating in Dasara this year," Dr. Karikalan added.

Reminiscences of Mysore City and Dasara Celebrations –1

By H.K. Shivananda, IAS (Retd.)

Mysore, now Mysuru, is always my first love. After my retirement, I wanted to settle down here peacefully. The natural temptation of spending my leisure time with grandchildren overruled my desire and I stayed back in Bangalore, now Bengaluru. It is a regret I carry even today.

My tryst with Mysuru goes back to 1946 when I went there to see Dasara as a schoolboy. At that time after the culmination of the Vijayadashami procession at Bannimantap, the Jumboo Savari used to come in a return procession to Mysore Palace via Ashoka Road.

We had a box-office view of the procession from the first floor of the then Bank of Mysore Building on the Ashoka Road-Irwin Road Junction as my relative was the Manager of that branch. With my fading memory, the grandeur of that procession in its heydays cannot be described now. For Mysureans it is a paradise lost.

Central Police Station Circle and Bank of Mysore

At that time, this Circle had only three majestic buildings 1. Central Police Station (now Lashkar Police Station), 2. General Post Office Building (now Head Post Office), 3. Bank of Mysore Ltd. Building (now SBI Building). The fourth corner where DCC Bank Building has come up now was a vacant site.

Bank of Mysore started on the initiative of Dewan M. Visvesvaraya in 1913 and was the most popular and well-known bank in the Princely State of Mysore. Next to the main branch at the head office in Bangalore, Mysore Branch located at this Circle was rated second in the State.

Its manager A.S. Mallappa commanded much respect and influence and was well-known in the social circle of Mysore in the 40s. He moved to Bangalore as Deputy General Manager. Along with B.V. Narayana Reddy, General Manager who had a long tenure, Bank of Mysore attained great heights under their leadership.

In 1960, it was nationalised and became a subsidiary Bank of State Bank of India under the new nomenclature State Bank of Mysore. In 2017, it lost its independent status and got merged with SBI and went into the pages of history.

Maharaja's College in 50s

I came to Mysore in 1954 to study at Maharaja's College and passed out in 1958 with M.A. in Economics. During those days in old Mysore, one had to go to Central College Bangalore to study basic science subjects and Maharaja's College, Mysore, for social science subjects.

Every Department had the best Professors. G.T. Hutchappa who came from a humble family and village background in Tiptur Taluk just then returned with a doctorate from New York University and was HoD in Economics Department for a long tenure.

Nehru Circle junction with Head Post Office, SBI Building, DCC Bank Building and Lashkar Police Station.

Likewise, a native of Channapattana Taluk, Prof. Venkatagiri Gowda returned to Mysore in 1957 with a doctorate from the London School of Economics and taught us for one year. Subsequently, he moved out to Bangalore University for Professor and HoD post.

In four years, I saw three Principals at Maharaja's College. The first year I had Prof. Purushottam of Philosophy as Principal and thereafter Dr. K.V. Puttappa (Kuvempu) as Principal till his elevation to VC's post. Finally, I had C.D. Narasimhaiah as Principal.

C.D. Narasimhaiah, who studied at Cambridge and returned to Mysore, became a professor of English at the age of 29 and as Principal he introduced several good practices of Cambridge, including the tutorial system.

The big open area in front of the College was barren with an uneven surface. Using the students in social service camps, he converted it into a good garden with Tennis Court in the middle. It is a pity that a man of his eminence, stature and erudition was denied the post of VC at Mysore University.

Dr. D.M. Nanjundappa, who worked in senior positions in Karnataka Government, was doing his doctoral studies at that time with GoI scholarship. The University Library on Maharaja's College campus was a second home to him and he was a role model to many youngsters.

Two of my classmates at Maharaja's College during those four years studying in other Departments and with whom I had no occasion to speak even once, rose to great heights and became nationally/internationally known and now I claim with pride they were my classmates.

One is Dr. S.L. Bhyrappa, the great Kannada novelist of our times. He was a student of Philosophy and was well-known during those days mainly because he participated in inter-hostel and inter-college Kannada debates where most of the time he was the winner. I still remember his debating skills and the powerful arguments he could present for or against any subject in debates held in the iconic Junior and Senior B.A. Halls of Maharaja's College.

Dr. Bhyrappa

All his novels are too well-known and it is difficult to say any particular novel of his is a magnum-opus. For people like us, his "Vamsha Vruksha" literally reconstructs the time we spent in Maharaja's College and its surroundings, Mysore and Nanjangud. I salute him for keeping that atmosphere and memory green to us throughout this book.

My other classmate was Narayana, who studied English literature and later taught English at Karnatak University, Dharwad. After many years, I saw articles and authoritative commentary on Indian Epics and Puranas, etc. in Kannada newspapers and discourses at several places by one Narayanacharya. It took some time for me to know that this Narayanacharya is none other than the Narayana of our times. He passed away a few years ago.

KSTDC launches tours in 13 circuits for Dasara

The rates will be applicable to all those who are above five years of age and the ticket prices are inclusive of travel and accommodation charges. Tourists have to pay for food, beverages and entertainment, and entry tickets to tourist places (local sightseeing) and places of interest, KSTDC Mysuru Assistant Office Manager Chethan told Star of Mysore.

All the tours are conducted in the air-conditioned buses of the KSTDC and if need be, KSRTC buses will be taken on rent to fulfil the tour package commitment. "These packages are being launched only for Dasara. In case of a good response, we will extend the services for a couple of days," he added. All the buses will start from the KSTDC Office on JLB Road (Mayura Hoysala Hotel).

As the 2020 and 2021 Dasara was low-key celebrations and there was a pandemic atmosphere, the tours and travel sector was dull and reported losses. "We anticipate a surge this time as Dasara is not seen as a reason to spread the pandemic. Local people will definitely travel and we are expecting a lot of outstation and foreign travellers, leading to some impetus to the tourism sector," Chethan said.

Prof. B. Sheik: Profile

Prof. B. Sheik Ali

Prof. B. Sheik Ali was a well-known authority on Hyder Ali and Tipu Sultan. His work on aspects of their reigns began in 1949 in Aligarh when he was encouraged to take up research on the theme by Mohammed Habib, a well-known historian of medieval India at that time. He followed up his Ph.D from Aligarh with a second Ph.D from the University of London in 1960.

Fluent in English, Kannada, Persian and Urdu and with a working knowledge of French, this Mysuru-based historian had published more than 30 books on various aspects of the history of Karnataka and India. He was the President of the 47th Session of the Indian History Congress in 1986 and also established the Karnataka History Conference. His academic career saw him take up administrative duties and he served as the Vice-Chancellor of the Universities of Mangalore and Goa. This nonagenarian and indefatigable scholar had also worked on translating Maulana Abul Kalam Azad's works.

He was President of Mountain View Chain of Institutions in Chikmagalur, which run Nursery to Degree level classes for 2,500 children with facilities of hostel both for boys and girls.

As the President of Muslim Education Society in Mysuru, he established a dozen Nursery and Primary Schools which have now been upgraded to First Grade College level.

As President of Central Muslim Welfare Council, Mysuru, he instituted Micro-Finance Credit Scheme benefiting hundreds of poor Muslim women and their families, together with coaching classes both for High School and PUC classes.

He also served as Editor-in-Chief of Premier Urdu Newspaper 'Daily SALAR' and 'Weekly SALAR'.

'Mysore Varsity has the distinction of giving education to many achievers'

Mysuru, Sept. 1 (SPN&TRR)- Let the fact that many achievers who have studied in University of Mysore be the guiding light for present and future students", said Mysuru University Evening College Principal Dr. H.C. Devarajegowda.

He was speaking at the annual celebrations and the send off function to senior students of evening college on Monday.

"University of Mysore has given birth to many achievers. Among them are four former Chief Ministers of the State S. Nijalingappa, S.M. Krishna, S. Bangarappa and Siddharamaiah who have identified themselves in politics. It is a matter of pride to say that these achievers are the products of University of Mysore," said Dr. Devarajegowda.

Senior students have completed the final year degree education. Some of them are preparing for higher education while some others may take up employment. It is good that most of the students who study in evening colleges attend colleges in the evening after working during daytime.

Evening college students work hard to get their degree, and students should carve out a good future for themselves," he advised.

Artist Chandan Achar, extra-curricular activities committee convenor and History Department Head Dr.Rachiah, many lecturers, research students and non-teaching staff were present on the occasion.

UP CM Yogi Adityanath in Bengaluru to open 'Kshemavana'

Bengaluru, Sept. 1 (Agencies)- Uttar Pradesh Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath arrived at the Nelamangala Helipad this morning near Bengaluru to inaugurate the wellness centre 'Kshemavana' of the Sri Dharmasthala Manjunatheshwara Institute of Naturopathy and Yogic Sciences (SDMINYS).

He came from Uttar Pradesh by a special flight and then flew to SDMINYS campus at Nelamangala by a helicopter. The UP Chief Minister will hold a discussion with the head of the institution Dharmadhikari Dr. D. Veerendra Heggade, who is also a Rajya Sabha member, and thereafter inaugurate the 'Kshemavana'.

Adityanath will be in the institute for about two hours. His Karnataka counterpart Basavaraj Bommai and Sri Nirmalanandanatha Swamiji of Adichunchanagiri Mutt will also be present. The UP CM's visit comes a day before Prime Minister Narendra Modi's visit to Mangaluru in coastal Karnataka on Friday.

'Kshemavana' is spread across 21 acres of land in Nelamangala and has been designed by prominent architect Mahesh Diophode and conceptualised by designer Ayush Kasliwal. It can accommodate 400 guests and has 86 special rooms, 30 deluxe suites, 16 cottages and 16 nests.

'Kshemavana' focuses on five pillars of well-being — mind-body medicine, sleep medicine, nutritional medicine, energy medicine and gut health.

Therapies include those from the centuries-old ancient Indian healing sciences of Naturopathy and Yoga, and include even a three-day course.

The most distinctive building is the 'Kurma' (with a gigantic tortoise on top) designed for yoga, meditation and a temperature-controlled pool for swimming. The 'Nandi' block has dining areas that offer different kinds of customised diets and over 25 therapy units.

Survey on to initiate design changes to prevent flooding

"Ramanagara received heavy rains on Aug. 27 to Aug. 29 and this was unprecedented and previously unheard of. All the senior officers of NHAI are camping at Ramanagara now and are conducting a survey of the areas, and the surrounding lakes including those which have been levelled off to make layouts. The detailed survey will be completed in a week or so and after that, we will look into redesigning the road to allow smooth flow of water," an officer in the know of things told Star of Mysore this morning.

According to the local residents, there are more than 35 lakes along the Highway and many parts of the road have been built upon a waste weir (a channel that carries excess water) without taking into account how the excess rainwater will pass from one side of the road to the other. The NHAI faced the wrath of motorists, who alleged design flaws and blocking of natural streams that resulted in flooding.

"Aspects of the redesign will take into account the future water flows and arrangements will be made for the smooth flow of water even if it rains excessively in the future. For us to take corrective measures, we are studying the flow of the stream and whether there are any blockages. All measures will be taken for the free flow of the water," the officer added.

All the corrective measures will be taken in the next four months and Union Minister for Road Transport and Highways Nitin Gadkari will soon inspect the Highway, the sources added.

Tent School keeps Dasara Mahouts' children busy

Talents of children are out in the open and in full flow

Mysuru, Sept. 1 (SBD&BCT)- All these days they were going to schools on the fringes of forests and adjacent to tribal settlements. But now, these children of Mahouts and Kavadis are having a gala time combined with learning and fun activities inside the Mysore Palace as they have accompanied their family heads and relatives who are taking care of the Dasara elephants.

Dasara is a double delight for these children not just because they get to wear new clothes and eat delicious food but because they also get to learn dance and drama and at the same time study their regular school syllabus.

The Tent School or a makeshift school has been established to take competency classes for 13 children from ages 6 to 16 in order to fill the gap caused due to their absence from regular classes in school. This is to ensure that the children do not miss their classes and eventually drop out of school because of their temporary migration to Mysuru where they stay for over two months.

An initiative of the Department of Public Instruction, six teachers have been posted to the school who will be taking classes for the children as per the curriculum with regard to their class. Along with studies, entertainment and games, the children are provided with lunch.

Novel initiative in 2004

In fact, the Department started the novel initiative in 2004 and over the years, the initiative has gone popular. This year, there is a likelihood of establishing the school in two buildings as there are more children, said Manjula, the Nodal Officer of the Tent School.

In addition to the 13 children who are learning at the Tent School now, there will be more children accompanying the Mahouts and Kavadis of five elephants who are scheduled to arrive in the Palace in the second batch. There are over 20 to 25 children who are set to join the school and in all, the Department is expecting the enrolment of 40 children.

While teacher Noor Fathima takes English and Mathematics, Lakshmi teaches Science and Mosin Taj teaches Kannada and Social Science. Along with them, the art teacher Mahadevu and Subbalakshmi too engage the children in various activities.

Bridging the edu gap

Before the initiative began in 2004, these children either helped their families in feeding and bathing the elephants, ran errands or just remained idle. "As they come to Mysuru leaving their schools, a gap was created and as such, they forgot the chapters they had studied. Some even lost interest in going back to school and would simply drop out. The Tent School helps these children engage in education and also enjoy their vacation," said Manjula.

Classes begin at 9.30 am and they have regular classes till 1.30 pm and post lunch, they are trained in drama and dance and are provided with a platform to showcase their talents, said Noor Fathima, who has been teaching in this Tent School for years.

On the last day of the camp, the Department gives them an attendance certificate to show that they have attended the school for 45 days so that they can join back to their schools and continue their education, she added.

Interestingly, the teachers too participate in the song and dance activities and the talents of the children are on full display games and cultural activities. "Though they are close to nature and is a daunting task to keep them in one place, they are fast learners and are highly intelligent. They just need an opportunity, that's all," Noor Fathima said.

WORD OF THE DAY

Jaunty

Pronunciation: JAWN-tee.
Meaning: Jaunty means "lively in manner or appearance."
Origin: Does throwing on a jaunty hat make someone appear more genteel? Maybe, but something more definitive links the words: both jaunty and genteel come from the French word gentil, meaning "of aristocratic birth." Genteel was borrowed first to describe things associated with aristocratic people. Jaunty joined the language just a few years later in the mid-17th century as a synonym of stylish and also as a synonym for genteel. While genteel has maintained its associations of propriety and high social class, jaunty has traipsed into less stuffy territory as a descriptor of tunes and hats and other things that suggest lively confidence.
Example: "Monty and Rose, who achieved local fame in 2019 as the first federally endangered piping plovers to raise a family in Chicago in almost 60 years, are gone from the North Side beach where they spent three summers. But the hope that the jaunty little shorebirds sparked for their species continues to grow. The Great Lakes Piping Plover Conservation Team has announced a record-breaking 2022 breeding season, with 149 wild chicks reaching the fledgling—or flying—stage, the most since official counts began in 1984." — Nara Schoenberg

THE ODD WORD

Jackanapes

Impudent child; conceited fellow.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Jump the gun

Meaning: 'Jump the Gun' means to start something before you should.
Origin: Most racers are very careful about making false starts. The origin of the idiom 'jump the gun' is early 20th century track and field races, and a printed example from Crowther and Ruhl's Rowing and Track Athletics in 1905, states: "False starts were rarely penalized, the pistol generally followed immediately on the signal 'Get set!' and so shiftless were the starters and officials that 'beating the pistol' was one of the tricks which less sportsmanlike runners constantly practiced." The earliest printed example of the term in use as an idiom comes from the November 1921 issue of The Iowa Homestead: "Give the pigs a good start; jump the gun, so to speak, and get them on a grain ration before weaning time."
Example: "Victor really jumped the gun with his project proposal- he should have waited until the other proposal was either accepted or rejected."
